AUTOMOBILES ARE CHANGING
FASHIONS!

People are just beginning to realize it.

Manufacturers and merchants saw the trend of things long ago and began to plan accordingly.

Today, for instance more soft hats for men are sold than ever before, because a soft hat is adaptable for use either on the street or in the motor.

To be up to date one must be posted on what the stores are showing.

They are barometers of the times. They must be alert to live.

There is no place for the laggard except the business bone-yard.

Through the advertising columns of daily newspapers like The Bulletin you can keep posted on what is going on.

The merchants are not secretive. They need your support to grow. They try to provide the things you want.

They use the newspapers to keep you informed.

Their advertising pays them only when it serves you.

That's why you should read advertising—so that you can reap the full harvest of service.

SNATCHED FROM PERILOUS POSITION

Jack Devlin Pulled From Falls Railroad Bridge by William E.
Stinson With Central Vermont Train Bearing Down on Him—Rescued by Narrow Margin From What Looked Like Sure Death.

By a margin of about two feet, William E. Stinson snatched Jack Devlin from the path of a train bearing down upon him on the railroad bridge at the Falls Tuesday about noon and saved him from what would probably have been certain death.

At the moment of the rescue Devlin had evidently been unconscious of the approach of the train, but when the train had rushed by and he stood up, he saw the peril that he had made himself.

As the Central Vermont train was heard approaching the bridge Devlin sent a thrill of horror down the spines of the people on the bridge, and starting to cross the bridge directly in the path of the train. In his intoxicated condition, according to witnesses of the occurrence, he did not notice the train nor heed the shouts of warning that were sent after him, and he kept on with apparent intention not to turn back.

Young Mr. Stinson, who is the son of Capt. Edward E. Stinson of the Chemical company and the Falls station, was near by and saw the peril that Devlin was in. He saw also how little time he had to get the man off the bridge, and he rushed forward to his rescue.

But for the help that was given him Devlin would in all probability have been ground to death under the wheels of the train. Stinson was successful in rescuing him, and he is now recovering from his heroic and successful effort in saving the man.

Game Birds Most Plentiful in Years—Rabbits About Average—Many Quail and Partridge.

Sportsmen who have had opportunity to visit the woods and fields during the latter summer and the residents of the city have been told that game birds are going to be the most plentiful this fall in a number of years.
Squirrels and rabbits are reported in abundance, and the residents of the city are told that the number of quail and partridge is about average. The number of quail and partridge is about average. The number of quail and partridge is about average. The number of quail and partridge is about average.

The early spring and summer were favorable to the young birds, and some good sport for the wing shot is promised as a result. Disease or bad spring weather at times killed off the young birds, but such an extent that three out of four birds bagged by the sportsmen in the fall will be old birds.

The number of quail and partridge is about average. The number of quail and partridge is about average. The number of quail and partridge is about average.

What Hospitals Show.
In statistics given in official reports to the comptroller for the year ending September 30, 1912, we find that the net weekly cost for supporting a convict at the state prison was less than a dollar, although the bill of fare is usually more than the cost of the convict's support.

No doubt in the smaller counties like Middlesex and Tolland, the ordinary number of inmates is below that required by the scientific unit of economy, and high weekly rates, of course, are therefore unavoidable, but the cost of the Middlesex hospital is about $1.82 a week, while at the Tolland county is $2.79 in Norwich.

It is also shown by these returns that the cost of the Middlesex hospital is about $1.82 a week, while at the Tolland county is $2.79 in Norwich.

Partnership Agreement
Has Been Violated.

Claim Made by Wm. H. Murphy in Suit Brought.

Papers in three new suits for the superior court were filed in the office of Clerk Parsons on Tuesday.

A receiver is asked for by William H. Murphy in a suit brought against McKay of Torrville, in order to settle up the partnership which these two men entered into March 26, 1912, for the manufacture of machines, clothes lines, twines and other articles, with a factory located in this city.

Mr. Murphy, the plaintiff, claims that his partner, Mr. McKay, who is made defendant, has failed to carry out the full terms of the partnership agreement in refusing to make an equal division of the profits by neglecting to give his full time to the business since July 1, 1912, and by refusing to operate the plant and has refused to render an accounting of the partnership affairs since March 26, 1912, and to the order of Robert MacKinnon of Little Falls for six months.

The papers in the appeal from probate on the will of the late Thomas Palmer Bindloss of New London have also been received.

Mr. Bindloss was drawn two years before his death. About a year prior to his demise a conservator was appointed. The applicants allege that Mr. Bindloss was incompetent at the time the will was drawn.

The appellants are Esther B. Duffey, Margaret P. Bindloss, Mary C. Crooker, Dora E. Bindloss, and John H. Bind-loss, Joseph B. Collins, Bindloss L.
Hillier and Henry T. A. Hillier.

OBITUARY.
Charles Brown.

Charles Brown, aged 18 years, 10 months and 7 days, died Monday night at the tuberculosis sanatorium, Thom-esville, where he had been a patient for some time. His home was in Dunbar, N. H., and he was a grandson of the late Charles Brown, a worker. He was the son of Alexander and Lillian Pierce Brown and was born in Middletown. The body was taken in charge by Undertaker Houston and will be sent to Niantic Monday morning for burial there.

STOMACH SILK?

Mi-o-na Will Prevent Further Trouble

Here, as in other cities and towns, stomach troubles are ensnaring victims in a most insidious way.
Nearly everyone is ill-treating the stomach, perhaps unconsciously, but the time comes when we cannot abuse it with impunity. Nature warns us.
Distress after eating, belching of gas, that lump of lead feeling in the stomach, headache and lack of energy, are warning signals. Now—at once —enlist with this distress.

Mi-o-na Stomach Tablets is the remedy. Get a box today. Their action is immediate. Besides stopping the distress, Mi-o-na soothes the irritated walls of the stomach and strengthens the gastric folicles so that they pour out the digestive fluids. Mi-o-na is not an experiment.
It is a cure-all. It is a scientific remedy recommended for but one thing—stomach ills.

Its use stops stomach distress and improves the digestive system so that what you eat is converted into nutrition and the entire system is properly nourished.

So certain are the results of Mi-ona that it is always sold on the mortalty back if not benefited plan. Lee &

Some Wide Variations Shown in State Aided Institutions—Heads Confer With Governor.

Tuesday forenoon representatives from a number of institutions in the state and of those which received partial aid met in the state capitol in the capitol at Hartford in accordance with the invitation of Governor Simeon E. Baldwin, to compare prices paid for supplies purchased for the maintenance of the institutions, and as to the relative cost of the support of the inmates in the institutions.

Governor Baldwin's Views.
Governor Baldwin called the meeting to order at 11:30 o'clock and in his address spoke of the bill that was under consideration in the state assembly for the appointment of a state purveyor who should have a general charge of the purchasing in bulk of the supplies needed in the institutions. The general assembly preferring to leave this matter to the state purveyor making its own purchases. It has seemed to me, he continued, after consultation with other state officers capable to have the heads of the institutions meet for the purpose of a friendly discussion of the best method of purchasing. Of course, the great object is to save the state the cost of supplies at reasonable figures, which would be practically the same for each institution in the state as far as purchasing in large quantities is concerned.
Some inequalities would no doubt prove inevitable in view of the different points of delivery and local conditions.

Weekly Cost in Jails.
